

Notes From A Stylist

SARA DELANEY, FOUNDER : HELLO@NOTESFROMASTYLIST.COM

ABOUT THE BLOG

I'm Sara Delaney a UK fashion stylist and photographer who is never knowingly caught without her trusty Nikon by her side. The Notes From a Stylist blog started way back in 2009 as a lifestyle blog and a place to share my fashion finds, muse about style inspiration and document my exploits whilst living in New York. It has since morphed into a vibrant community and a spot where you can drop by and discover how to keep your fashion mojo on track.

As a Content Creator I offer curated social media imagery and strategy consultancy to small businesses seeking to grow their engagement.

PARTNERSHIPS

"At The White Company, we are incredibly selective about which influencers and bloggers we work with. We've collaborated several times with Sara, as we feel her innate understanding of our brand and our customers is always reflected in the high-quality content she delivers. Personally, I've found Sara fantastic to work with – she offers great ideas, considerable experience and a real passion for all that she produces."

Shelley Marks, Editor, The White Company
